

Data Processing Particulars

Nature of the processing	The collection, storage, retrieval, use, organisation, structuring and disclosure via transmission of Customer Personal Data as required for the purpose and subject matter of the processing.
Purpose and subject matter of the processing	The Customer Personal Data shall be processed as necessary for Keyloop to provide the Services and as outlined in the Agreement.
Duration of the processing	The processing shall take place for the duration of the Agreement, unless otherwise directed by Customer.
Categories of Data Subjects	<ul style="list-style-type: none">(i) existing, former and potential customers of Customer (and related individuals where applicable); and(ii) existing, and former personnel of Customer, agents and/or third parties acting on behalf of Customer.
Types of Customer Personal Data	<ul style="list-style-type: none">(i) name, address and contact details of existing, former and potential customers of Customer, and related individuals where applicable;(ii) information relating to a data subject's disability for the purposes of administration of mobility schemes;(iii) details of vehicles, purchases, sales, servicing and other transactions linked to data subject records;(iv) interactions between the data subject and Customer linked to the data subject's record, including where relevant records of communication;(v) existing and former Customer personnel name, address and HR records;(vi) Authorised User name and user identification number; and(vii) such other personal data processed as part of providing the Services and complying with the obligations outlined in the Agreement.